DEAR POTENTIAL SPONSORS,

MPOC is organizing the 7th International Palm Oil Sustainability Conference 2022 (IPOSC 2022) on 13 September 2022 at the InterContinental Hotel, Kuala Lumpur. The focus will be on current issues which include global initiatives to achieve Net Zero and decarbonisation efforts, green financing and ESG opportunities, as well as international deforestation-linked legislations which will impact commodities like palm oil.

The conference will present renowned local and international experts speaking on these topics and providing updates especially on matters related to sustainable palm oil production. This international event is expected to bring in a wide range of stakeholders interested in sustainability efforts practiced by the palm oil industry.
